Vendor Agreement

- Vendor space is subject to availability, venue requirements, and final approval by the Roots2Royalty event team.
- Vendors are responsible for staffing their own space and maintaining a professional, safe, and orderly display.
- Vendors are responsible for any permits, licenses, insurance, tax obligations, food-service requirements, equipment, and payment processing applicable to their business.
- Products, services, displays, and promotional materials must be family-friendly and consistent with the spirit of the Roots2Royalty Black History Month Experience.
- Vendor fees reserve space only after payment is received and the application is accepted. Specific placement is determined by the event team; priority placement for All-Event Vendors is provided when venue layout allows.
- Vendors are responsible for their own merchandise, cash, equipment, and personal property. Roots2Royalty and its presenting partners are not responsible for lost, stolen, or damaged vendor property.
- Food and beverage vendors may be subject to additional venue, health department, or insurance requirements before final approval.
- Event dates, venues, schedules, and vendor instructions may be updated. Approved vendors will receive final setup and arrival information before each applicable event.
